Our Statutory Consultation is now live – please tell everyone!

A brief message from Graham Olver, Chief Executive Officer of Luton Rising – the company that owns London Luton Airport:

We're now live with our Statutory Consultation, to hear the community's views on our proposal for long-term growth of our airport by adding a second terminal and making best use of the existing runway.

Our website lutonrising.org.uk has details of our proposals and of 13 public events, as well as feedback forms and a special virtual exhibition room.

Here you can see our video which summarises our proposals, sets out the case for growth, and outlines how we propose to minimise impacts which we believe are some of the most far-reaching measures ever put forward by a UK airport.

We want to maximise the social and economic benefits of growth and we firmly believe there is a way to grow an airport in a sustainably responsible way. Our proposals reflect the sustainability values, both of Luton Rising and our sole shareholder Luton Council.

There are number of other videos on the website including this one, which specifically highlights the social impact we are aiming to achieve through future growth.

As many of you will know, since 2002 we have contributed £155 million to support local community organisations and charities just like yours and we want your amazing work to continue. Our proposals for the airport include the new Community First fund, which will allow for much greater support of community projects in Luton and the neighbouring counties impacted by our airport's operations.

We really want to hear from as many people as possible, so it would be great if you could respond to the consultation – you can do that here – and let your contacts, friends and family know about it too.

If you would like any hard copy materials or feedback forms please email futureluton@lutonrising.org.uk

Thank you!
